Antwerp in the Renaissance
Bruno Blondé, Jeroen Puttevils (eds)

This book engages with Antwerp in the Renaissance. Bringing together several specialists of sixteenth-century Antwerp, it offers new research results and fresh perspectives on the economic, cultural and social history of the metropolis in the sixteenth century. Recurrent themes are the creative ways in which the Italian renaissance was translated in the Antwerp context.

Transregional Territories
Crossing Borders in the Early Modern Low Countries and Beyond
Bram De Ridder, Violet Soen, Werner Thomas, Sophie Verreyken (eds)

By focussing on the border regions of the Spanish Habsburg Low Countries, and by exploring interactions in and beyond these borderlands, this monograph sheds light on how humans in the past created, bridged and surpassed the territorial boundaries they encountered. This approach reveals how early modern borders functioned not only as areas of communication and movement, but also as barriers that hindered or impeded cross-border exchanges.

Sacred Images and Normativity
Contested Forms in Early Modern Art
Chiara Franceschini (ed.)

This volume "Contested forms" aims to provide a first exploration of image normativity by means of a series of case studies, which will focus in different ways on the intersections between the limits of the sacred image and the power of art, especially but not exclusively in Europe, between 1450 and 1650. Each essay will approach the question of normativity in sacred images from different perspectives.
