Guidelines for Authors

LANGUAGES

The journal publishes articles in English and French.

ABSTRACT

All papers should include an abstract of 100-200 words.

FOOTNOTES

Footnotes should be used, not endnotes. Footnotes should be numbered consecutively throughout the text.

REFERENCES

General remarks:

- Authors are responsible for the completeness and accuracy of their references and citations.
- References should include complete page numbers for all articles in journals and edited volumes.
- When applicable, give numbers without “page” or “pg.” or “p” in both the reference list at the end of the paper and in-text citations.

In-text citations:

- Simple citations or quotation attributions should be made by citation within the text.
- If the context specifies the reference clearly, name of the author and year of publication suffice, e.g. (Butterfield 1949).
- If the citation concerns a reprint or translation, give the year of the original publication in brackets, e.g. (Butterfield [1949] 1985).
- When appropriate, cite author, year and page numbers, e.g. (Butterfield 1949, 137), or (Butterfield 1949, 130-138).
- If the subject of a sentence is the author, then only the year and page numbers are in parenthesis, e.g. Butterfield (1949) argued that ..., or: Butterfield (1949, 137) argued that..., or: Butterfield argued that ... (1949, 137).
- If you are referring to multiple texts by a single author, separate years by semi-column, e.g. (Butterfield 1949; 1951; 1955).
- If you are referring to multiple texts by multiple authors, separate authors by semi-column, e.g. (Butterfield, 1949, 1951; Koyré 1957, 1961).
- If you are using a block citation, place the citation after the period.

List of references:

- The bibliographical list of references must be placed on a new page at the end of the text and headed References.
- List alphabetically by senior author all and only the cited references.

- More than one reference by the same author should be listed in chronological order (more recent first).
- More than one reference by the same author in the same year should be distinguished by a, b, etc., e.g. ... 1930a, ... 1930b.
- In the bibliographical list of references at the end of the paper:
 - o All references to original works (i.e. not translations) written in ancient Greek and Latin should follow the standard referencing conventions given in the Greek-English Lexicon of Liddell, Scott and Jones, and in the Oxford Latin Dictionary respectively.
 - o The titles of all references to modern original works (i.e. not of translations) written in languages other than English, French, German, Italian, Spanish and Portuguese should be given in the language these works were written, and accompanied by their translation (in brackets) in the language of the paper. The names of the author(s) and all other information, however, should be transliterated using Latin characters. See examples below.

Authors: Use surnames followed by initials. If there are two authors, use comma after the first name and the word 'and' before the second name. If there are multiple authors, separate by commas and the word 'and' before the last name.

Titles: see examples below.
