

CENTAURUS

JOURNAL OF THE EUROPEAN SOCIETY
FOR THE HISTORY OF SCIENCE

Centaurus. Journal of the European Society for the History of Science is an international English language journal and the official journal of the European Society for the History of Science. The journal was started in 1950 and has remained one of the major journals devoted to the study of the history of science.

Aims and scope

Centaurus publishes original research papers, historiographical articles, and other academic work on the history of science broadly conceived, including the history of mathematics, physical sciences, life sciences, earth sciences, social sciences, humanities, medicine and technology, and their social and cultural aspects.

We also invite contributions that establish connections between history of science and other disciplines. Book notices, book reviews and essay reviews of publications within the journal's scope are commissioned to experts.

The Editor encourages suggestions for special issues, short papers on topics of current interest and articles suited to open peer commentary along with a list of potential commentators.

Subscribe-to-Open

From 2022, Centaurus is published in Diamond Open Access at no cost to the authors or readers through a partnership between the ESHS and Brepols.

The sustained success of our Open Access initiative will depend crucially on the support of libraries and other institutions via the Subscribe-to-Open (S2O) publishing model.

We kindly invite you to recommend Centaurus to your librarian.

About Subscribe-to-Open

Subscribe-to-Open is a Coalition-S endorsed solution for sustainable and equitable open access publishing that provides a more fair and equitable alternative to article processing charges (APCs), the mechanism used by most open access journals. It uses existing library relationships and subscriptions to convert gated journals to open access. Institutions simply subscribe or renew their subscriptions – there are no additional processes – and, as long as Subscribe-to-Open revenues are sustainable, the year's issues are published open access.

Editorial Background

All articles in the journal Centaurus are evaluated by an Editorial Board, strictly on academic grounds, based on reports prepared by referees who have been commissioned by virtue of their specialism in the appropriate field. The Board ensures that the screening is done independently and without conflicts of interest. The definitive texts supplied by authors are also subject to review by the Board before being approved for publication.
