

CENTAURUS

JOURNAL OF THE EUROPEAN SOCIETY
FOR THE HISTORY OF SCIENCE

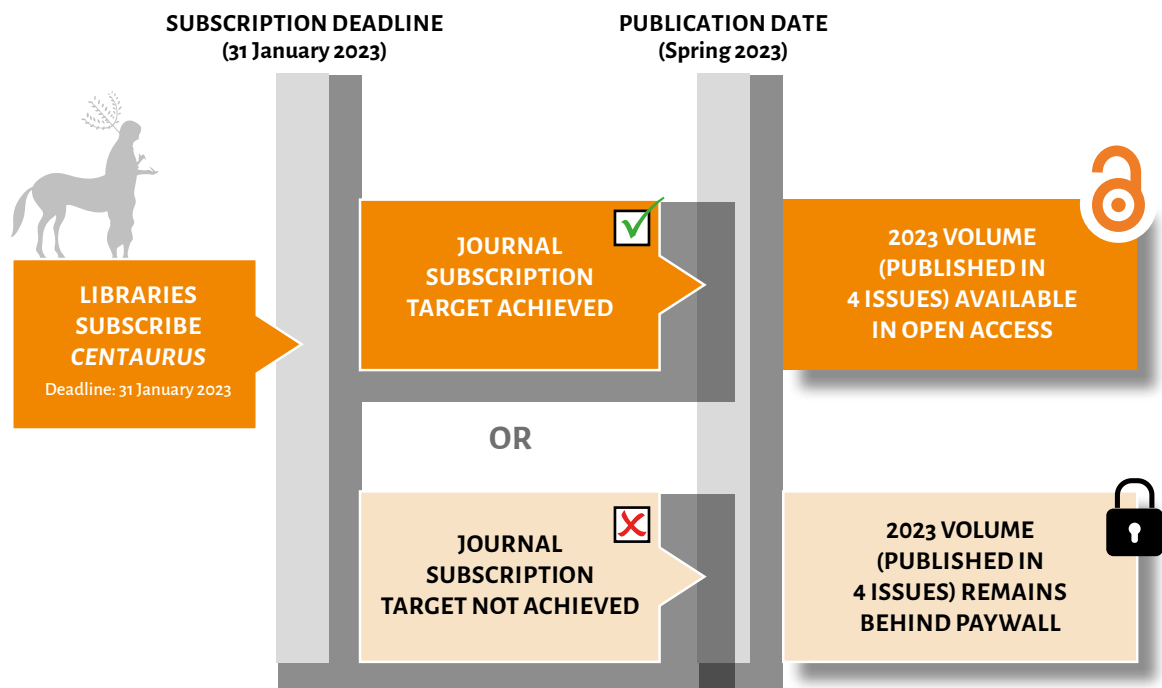

The European Society for the History of Science (ESHS) and Brepols announce a partnership to publish the Society's flagship journal Centaurus. Journal of the European Society for the History of Science fully in Open Access from 2022 onwards, at no cost to the authors or readers.

Background

Until 2021 Centaurus. An International Journal of the History of Science and its Cultural Aspects was published by Wiley as the official journal of the ESHS. As the collaboration ended with Wiley in 2021, the ESHS and Brepols have decided to relaunch Centaurus, with the same editorial team, scope, and principles. Together, Brepols and the ESHS have the aim of publishing Centaurus fully Open Access through the fair and inclusive Subscribe-to-Open publishing model. Subscriptions will be available at a significantly lower rate, together with other benefits for participating libraries. We invite you to discover these benefits, along with more details, on the following page.

About Subscribe-to-Open

Subscribe-to-Open is a Coalition-S endorsed solution for sustainable and equitable open access publishing that provides a more fair and equitable alternative to article processing charges (APCs), the mechanism used by most open access journals. It uses existing library relationships and subscriptions to convert gated journals to open access. Institutions simply subscribe or renew their subscriptions – there are no additional processes – and, as long as Subscribe-to-Open revenues are sustainable, the year's issues are published open access.

Editorial Background

All articles in the journal Centaurus are evaluated by an Editorial Board, strictly on academic grounds, based on reports prepared by referees who have been commissioned by virtue of their specialism in the appropriate field. The Board ensures that the screening is done independently and without conflicts of interest. The definitive texts supplied by authors are also subject to review by the Board before being approved for publication.

BREPOLS

Subscribe to Open (S2O)

A fair and sustainable open access model

What is S2O?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ An innovative, transformative model that aims to move subscription journals to open access
How does it work?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Following the subscription renewal cycle, a journal joining the S2O programme will publish its newly-accepted content in open access as soon as sufficient subscriptions have been received, typically at the end of January in Year 1 ■ Pricing is established in a transparent way to balance the costs of publication ■ If a journal does not reach the subscription threshold, only subscribers will receive access to papers published in the coming year
Benefits for subscribers	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Institutions support journals for the common good of the academic community and demonstrate their commitment to open access ■ Subscribers get read-only access to Archeion and a discounted subscription rate ■ None of the authors (including those of the subscribing institute) need to cover APCs anymore to publish in these journals
Benefits for authors	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Authors publish in S2O journals in open access, free of charge (no APCs) – publication fees are covered by the subscription income ■ Articles are published under a CC-BY 4.0 license allowing authors to retain the copyright ■ The license enables authors to be fully compliant with the open access requirements of their institution or funding organisation(s)
Benefits for the community	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ It supports open access and open science and helps to guarantee the long-term scientific independence of researchers through a diversity of publishing models ■ It is a fair and inclusive route to open access ■ It helps to meet the growing demand for open access publications, e.g. Plan S
How can I support S2O?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ New subscribers may contact periodicals@brepols.net at any time ■ Participation will help the S2O model to thrive and will reduce the subscription price for subscribers
Where can I find out more?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Contact open.access@brepols.net ■ Website Centaurus: https://bit.ly/CentaurusOA2021 ■ Subscribe to Open Community of Practice – subscribetoopencommunity.org
